What recommendations would you make to scale-up or share your project more broadly (within an educational sector, or perhaps SUNY-wide)?

As a result of the project, an open access, on-demand course is placed on Coursera to serve multiple categories of non-U.S.-born learners and helping them navigate American virtual learning and work environments. The course can be used by any SUNY institution teaching online or blended courses. It can be also used for professional development for faculty and professionals working with non-U.S. students. It can also be used outside SUNY.

If you would like to create a community of practice within the SUNY Learning Commons, please describe "members of your community" who would be most interested in your outcomes. Please be specific (e.g., math faculty, instructional designers, student services, registrars, administrators, accreditation or assessment specialists).

international students and scholars faculty teaching international students faculty teaching online or blended courses where some students are from abroad instructional designers serving the above student service professionals instructing international students

Do you intend to create an ongoing "Community of Practice" within the SUNY Learning Commons to continue work and dialog regarding this project?

Yes

Overall, how successful was IITG in meeting your project goals? (You may elaborate on your response in the final question if not addressed elsewhere.)

Extremely successful

Do you wish your current abstract to be used?

Yes
